About:

New Works is proud to present All Over The Map (AOTM), a free, annual outdoor performance series that takes place on Granville Island each summer. Attracting kids, families, and a diversity of folks visiting the island, we have found that welcoming, playful work with a strong audio component works really well in this space. In general, we are looking for:

- Original dance works that are 10 - 12 minutes in length
- Work that can quickly move in and out of the space (i.e. no complex technical needs, props, or set ups) as each date will include a mixed bill of 3 to 4 artists
- Engaging movement and audio that will pull folks in to stop and watch
- Work that can safely and successfully be performed at the specific venue (see notes below).

Number of Opportunities:

Date 1: 3 - 4 artists

Date 2: 3 - 4 artists

There are 6 - 8 opportunities in total for artists, groups, or collectives to participate in AOTM.

The Space + Technical Details:

AOTM performances will take place in the Picnic Pavilion on Granville Island. This is an outdoor, covered space with open sides (no walls), where performances will take place rain or shine!

About the Performance Space:

- The Picnic Pavilion is a roughly 20'x30' performance space and has a concrete floor. New Works does not have the capacity to bring in additional flooring, so all artists must be comfortable performing on concrete OR next to the Picnic Pavilion on the grass.
- Weather dependent, you may choose to perform on the grass instead, but all artists should be ready to perform within the Picnic Pavilion as needed.
- A green room space will be made available to artists a short walk away from the performance site. There are no wings or 'off stage' space within the Picnic Pavilion as it is an open, non-traditional performance space.
- Performances will take place in a wide proscenium set up.

The Technical Details:

- We will set up a PA system in the Picnic Pavillion, and can support recorded and limited acoustic live music performance.
- There is no lighting, projector, or curtain available in the space.
- A Stage Manager will be onsite to support in advance and throughout the performance day.
- Each performance date includes tech time and two performances. You and all your performers must be available for the entire window of time.

Performance Fee: $1000

All selected artists will be offered a $1000 artist fee. Please keep this fee structure in mind when considering the scope and scale of the work you are applying with.

We plan to respond to all applicants on or before March 31, 2025.
